Notes from Jeff

Hello everyone and Happy New Year!

This New Years Eve, Paul Perryman and I were working together at the Atlantis in Reno for a "High Roller" private party in their ballroom. We had my big band, "The Jeff Leep Orchestra" with 22 pieces including Paul as one of 4 lead vocalists, and "The World's Most Dangerous PARTY Band!" with 8 pieces playing rock and roll later in the evening. If you haven't seen this combination yet, it is a knock out. The big band with the classic and jump swing, working into Motown and disco. Then the party band batting clean up, taking everyone over the top. It's a great line up for a party with guests of all ages; a little something for everyone, with nonstop music throughout the evening.

The inner pages of this newsletter feature a variety of pictures from events that we provided entertainment for in the year 2000. Also included are portions of letters that we received from happy buyers. It always makes us feel good to know that our company has an extremely high level of customer satisfaction. We are including a few of these for everyone to see. If you are not already with us, jump on board!

I am spending extra time in Sacramento in the first quarter of this year, with our California sales team, to pump up sales. Dawn Bell, our local sales representative, is a wonderful, hard working employee, and is doing a great job making new friends. We are just getting to know many people for the first time in the Valley, and I find "cold calling" actually fun. It's always great selling with an open heart, knowing that what we are selling is a first class service, and that we can always deliver on our promises. "Promise less and deliver more" is one of my favorite axioms. That way, when more is delivered, we exceed expectations; always a pleasant surprise. If you are in the Sacramento Valley, we will be calling soon to introduce ourselves.

If you are not already with us, jump on board!

I would like to ask everyone to take the time to look at our website at www.leepentertainment.com if you haven't yet. Paul Perryman is our webmaster, and he will be making changes and updates as needed. See videos in the Real format. We will be adding more as we can.

From our company to yours, we wish you a happy, healthy and profitable New Year!

Wine Tasting Made Special

Everyone has probably attended a wine tasting event at some point in time. Sometimes they're wonderful events full of great wines and good friends. Other times they can be tedious and even intimidating and we'd rather not deal with the pretentious tasting rules. Over all though, most people like the idea of discovering something about wine that they didn't know and would really enjoy a comfortable environment in which to enjoy fine wine and easy conversation.

Gerald Heston is a wine expert – a somelier – whose comfortable style and amazing knowledge about wines has led him to such lofty employment as the prestigious Four Seasons Restaurant & the Tavern on the Green in New York City, as well as the Midtown Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles and the Sonoma Mission Inn. He has developed wine lists for the Hilton corporation, taught wine tasting classes in Los Angeles, and is currently employed as a wine educator at Clos Pegase Winery in the Napa Valley.

Think how enjoyable an event you could have with such a talented individual at the helm of a wine tasting.

One of the wonderful things about planning a wine tasting event is that they can be accomplished literally any time of the year. They can be held in almost any setting and can accommodate small and large groups alike. If you are interested in discussing such an event, please give us a call and we'll help you work out the details. You'll be the shining star of your company or for your client when they witness a professional wine tasting event that is both enlightening and relaxing. ●
